This exceptional whisky is securely encased within an individually numbered, handblown Glencairn crystal decanter. The decanter is luxuriously presented within a striking Italian crafted wooden box, furnished with soft, premium Italian leather. Sealed with a wooden transit cork, an engraved, solid brass and gold plated glass stopper is also provided.

Each package contains a miniature of this exclusive single malt, enclosed in a bespoke gift box, as well as an individually numbered book, hand signed by Distillery Manager Graham Eunson.

Finally, a premium leather carry bag completes the presentation.

Tasting notes by our Distillery Manager, Graham Eunson:

In true celebratory fashion, this single malt is bursting with aroma. Dried tropical fruits are first to greet the nose before a mix of nuts, dark chocolate and honey. Much like the history of Tomatin itself, the palate is slow to open with gentle hints of fresh orange and apricot, it then becomes more intense with notes of dried fruit and spices before a wave of Oloroso Sherry driven flavours. The flavour recedes, leaving an elegant, rich sweetness to linger.
